Grower/Owners Throughout the Americas and Expanding Worldwide

Grower Owned. Globally Operated.

North Bay Produce owners/growers span the globe between the northern and southern hemispheres and beyond to provide a continuous supply of fresh fruits and vegetables.

Logistical Advantage

- Strategically located warehouses throughout the world and logistical expertise assure that produce is moved efficiently and safely.
- From this central distribution point in Mascoutah, IL, our produce can be trucked to 90% of the population of the USA and Canada within 18 hours or less.
- Located adjacent to a full-size runway.
- Our facility is one of only twelve USDA Certified Cold Treatment Facilities in the U.S. and only one of two that is adjacent to an airport runway.

About Us

Whether it's crisp apples, juicy berries or sweet snap peas, North Bay Produce makes fresh fruits and vegetables available to the world – all year long. A cooperative of grower-owners across North, Central and South America, we are headquartered in Traverse City, Michigan, and united in our dedication to offering high-quality produce and exceptional customer service.

Food Safety

Our production standards are extremely high. We meet or exceed the requirement of the programs, regulations and industry best practices that promote food safety at every stage of production, importation and distribution.

- USDA, FDA and U.S. Customs Service regulations
- Customs Trade Partnership Against Terrorism
- On-site inspections at warehousing and packing facilities
- Positive lot identification system for “farm to fork” tracking

Sustainability

Sustainability is the balance of people, planet and profit, otherwise known as the triple bottom line. It is only when these factors are equitable, bearable and viable is a practice or outcome truly sustainable. Balancing these priorities is our focus every day.

Our Products

North Bay Produce offers a year-round supply of our core commodities which include apples, blueberries, blackberries, raspberries, strawberries, snow & sugar snap peas, and French beans. In addition, we also supply seasonal items from some of our Central and South American farms such as figs, asparagus and Brussels sprouts.

At North Bay Produce, quality is the number one goal for each and every item we grow, market, and sell. Our mission isn't to just make sure our produce arrives onto the store shelves in good condition, it's to make sure it meets our consumers expectations once they get our produce home to enjoy. We have extensive quality control measures each step of the way to ensure our consumers are getting the best quality each and every time.
